ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Many people contribute to the success of the Florida Statewide Summer Library Program by their support, hard work and concern.

At the state level, the program is regarded as an important element in library development, and is encouraged as a stimulation to reading and as a community information and recreation resource. Thanks to Janet DeMott, Cynthia LaFollette, Virginia Grigg and Barratt Wilkins, who all make special contributions.

The administration of the project is handled by Florida State University's Center for Professional Development. Thanks especially to John Brennan.

David Rowland of Upstart Library Promotionals is again in charge of design, production and delivery of materials.

Brian Ebert is in charge of the printing plant at Zephyrhills Correctional Institution. They print our manuals and evaluations.

The Advisory Committee to the State Consultant is invaluable in selecting the yearly theme, helping with policy decisions, planning the regional workshops. The committee members for the '85 program are:

Julie Shelton Hall ..... Palm Beach County Library System
Pat Kerns ..... Winter Park Public Library
Verdelle Walker ..... Broward County Division of Libraries
Karen Hamed ..... Central Florida Regional Library System
Althea Anderson ..... Clearwater Public Library
Cindy Fairchild ..... West Florida Regional Library
Suzanne Shaeffer ..... Volusia County Library System
Barbara McIntyre ..... Seminole Library System
Nita Garcia ..... West Dade Regional Library

The five regional workshops, including puppet shows, bibliographies and program ideas are planned and presented this year by Linda Boyles and Roseanne Russo with great assistance from the staff of the Children's Department of the Gainesville Public Library. The portion of the manual designed to support and amplify the workshops was also prepared by them. This is a monumental endeavor, and we are especially grateful to those who undertake to serve us this way each year.

But finally, the most important part of the SLP team is the local library staff. The children's librarian, assistants and volunteers are the ones who use their ingenuity to translate the theme, materials, and ideas into happenings that make local libraries visible in the community and deliver the program to the children.

Sincere appreciation to all of you who are involved, including library directors and trustees who frequently join in the fun.

EVALUATION SUMMARY OF '84 SLP: WHAT WE LEARNED AND HOW WE WILL RESPOND

At least 253,320 visits were made to the public libraries of Florida as a direct result of Florida's Statewide Summer Library Program, this is an increase of 36,370 or 14% over last year's attendance figures. One hundred seventy-two (172) of one hundred seventy-four (174) responses (several of these were system compilations) felt that the program was successful in its effort to motivate children to think positively about the library and its resources.

One hundred twelve (112) thought their individual programs highly successful, fifty-six (56) moderately successful and six (6) were disappointed. Extenuating circumstances often account for less than 100% satisfaction, i.e. staffing problems, construction, remodeling, etc. Some quite frankly said they were suffering from burn out. The question about your programs success is important because it is a chance for you to do some self-evaluation. If you feel your program was less than highly successful because of something that the State Library could have done differently, then you must let us know. Otherwise it allows you to examine the components of your program to identify ways to improve, and to analyze the reasons for whatever measure of dissatisfaction that you felt. A few did not like the dragon theme. In a few cases attendance was down because other agencies sponsored competing programs, but in most cases both attendance and circulation was up.

Many noted that 8-11 year old children are harder to program for, that attendance is lower in this age group, that many other kinds of activities are offered for them. We do not think this is cause for discouragement, but it is a situation that should be acknowledged. We need to realize that society is changing and that many parents work all day. For that reason children do not have the long unscheduled summers they once had. Often, day-long care must be arranged and children are locked into structured programs. It may be that our library programs need to be altered and/or adjusted to accommodate this fact. Look closely at your local situation before planning next summer's program. Think what will be the best way to serve the most children in your area.

All but two liked the materials this year. The art work and four-color printing were praised. The most popular items were bookmarks, coloring posters, posters and book bags in that order. Opinion on the reading records was more divided. There were (60) ones, (62) twos and (33) threes on the ranking scale. There were nine (9) below the median. Next year our reading record will definitely be more colorful, but will retain basically the same format, i.e. activities in the inside of the folder relating to Florida and on the back, places to record books. There will be an additional sheet in the manual which can be copied for extra lines. While some found the inside of the the folder to be confusing, others called it the best ever.

Trying to analyze all of your responses concerning the repro packets, we think we will make the most people happy by simply adding another activity sheet. Next year there will be 2 logo sheets, 3 activity sheets and a certificate.

Book bags were a hit. Unfortunately our money for them was an unexpected bonus and not part of our regular budget. This year, Burt Reynolds has agreed to let us use his picture and name for promotional purposes for the '85 SLP. If we can find an underwriter for the book bags, we will use his picture on them and supply them again. We wish there were some way we could make this a standard part of our materials, but so far we can't see how.

Every one liked the manual, so we will stay with that format and size. We did learn not to include a two page spread that could not be reproduced on a standard photocopier (the treasure chest). Sorry about that. We won't make that mistake again. The game sheet in this year's manual will have to be taped down the middle. We are going to try to have a separate manual with successful programs which can be used year round.

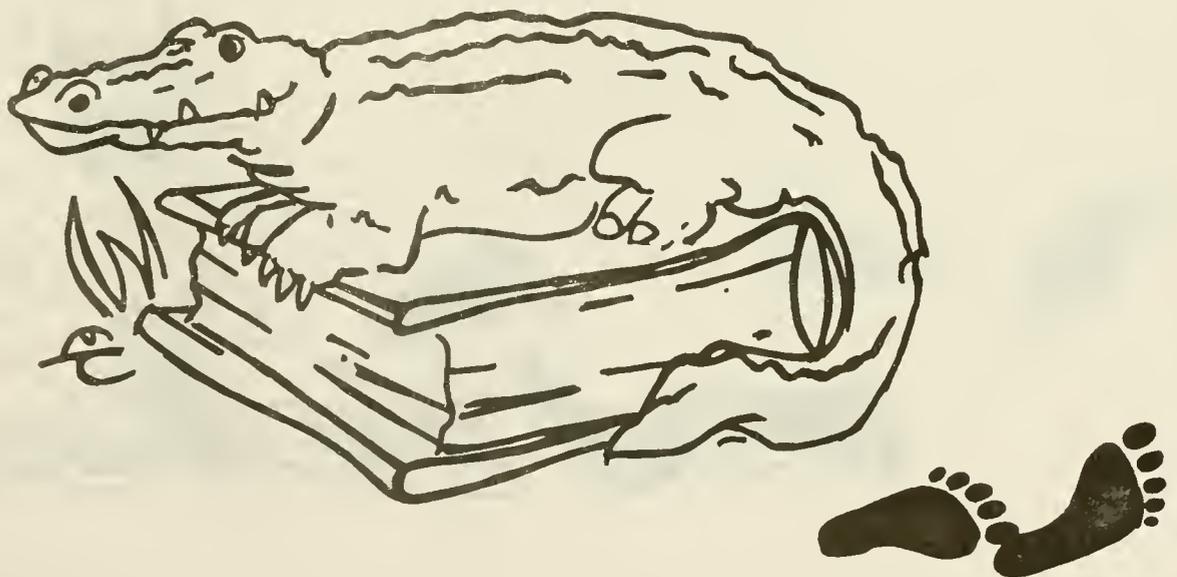

Finally, without exception we were mandated to plan another program for next year. We are busy doing that, and in the spirit of onward and upward, we hope it is the best ever.

A final word about the evaluations to the local librarians who are ultimately responsible for the Summer Library Program's success. The time and effort that goes into filling these out is quite obvious. The many enclosures and pictures are thoroughly enjoyed; your thoughtful comments are duly noted; the attendance statistics which you gathered go to make our grand total an important measure. You know that the evaluations are a vital part of the summer program which continues to grow and change. The changing is in response to your wishes, the growing in response to your enthusiasm. Thank you.

P.S. Several responses suggested that local patrons should have a sheet to evaluate the SLP at their library. We think this is a good idea, and suggest you devise a form which will give you feed back from your clientele.

If this is your first summer doing a Summer Library Program we have a publication called: How to Do a Summer Library Program If You've Never Done One Before. Send a request to Betty Miller at the State Library.

Finally, all our suggestions in the manual, at the workshops and in person are meant only as helps - the program is yours, individualized and tailored to suit your community. The only requirements are that the program is open to everyone and that it be non-competitive. Improved reading is certainly one goal of the program. But information in any format is also a goal.

The Theme for the 1986 Summer Library Program
Will Be
AROUND THE WORLD

We had 76 responses to our ballot sent out with the 1985 order forms. The tally was as follows:

1. Animals.....18
2. Around the World .....32
3. Things That Go .....3
4. Humor.....10
5. Heroines and Heroes.....13

FOOTLOOSE IN FLORIDA

THE WORKSHOP

Presenters: Linda Boyles and Roseanne Russo

Our workshops will be fairly flexible and footloose themselves. Bring your own ideas to share.

Agenda

We use the term "loosely."

9:00 - 11:00

Morning amenities.

Guest Speaker: Dr. Gerald Hodges, University of North Carolina, Department of Library Science, and a Floridian, as well. Dr. Hodges will be presenting techniques for getting kids and books together.

11:00 - 1:00

Browse through displays.
Talk to each other.

LUNCH!

1:00 - 4:00

Demonstrations of programming techniques, crafts, etc., from presenters (Linda and Rosie) and audience. Remember those great ideas you came up with at lunch? Well, tell us about them!

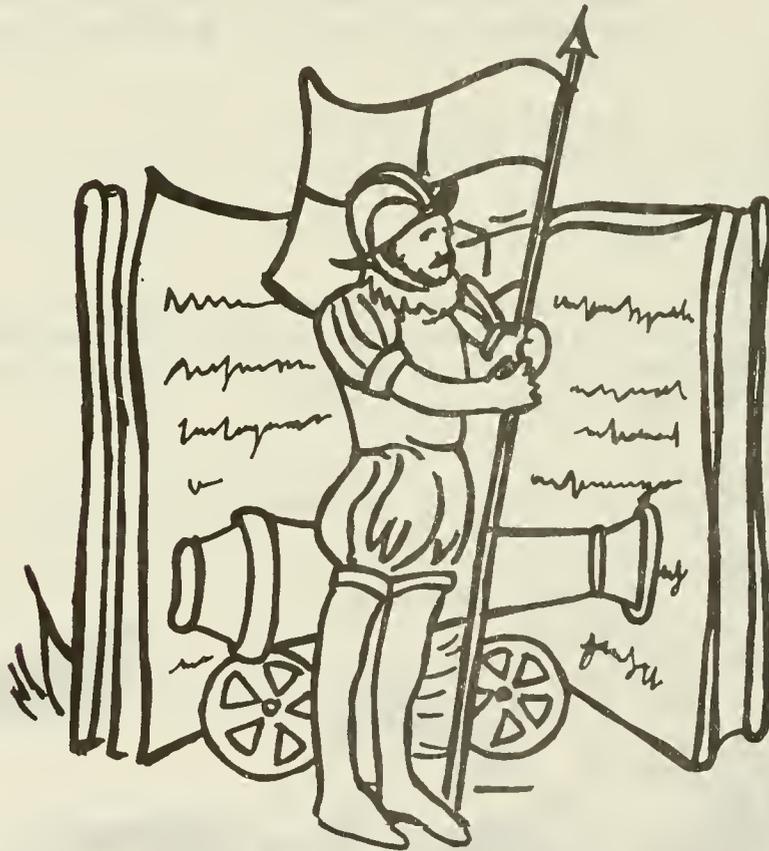

Head home, kick off those shoes and let the creative juices flow!

HAPPY FOOTLOOSE!

FOOTLOOSE IN FLORIDA

THE MANUAL

FOOTLOOSE IN FLORIDA

In this section of the manual, we have outlined a few approaches to promoting and programming for a FOOTLOOSE summer. We think FOOTLOOSE is an ideal opportunity to tie adult programming and displays in with your children's activities. Encourage your adult services staff to become involved this summer. (You are the adult services staff? Even better!)

We have tried to provide a starting place for you. In some cases, suggestions are very detailed, but generally, since this manual addresses libraries of all sizes and varying resources, we've offered the idea and left it to you to decide how much or how far to take it.

This section is divided as follows:

1. Publicity. . . . . p. 2
2. Decorations & Displays . . . . . p. 8
3. Programming. . . . . p. 11
Please note that the Summer Library Program is aimed at school-age children. However, we know many of you must continue preschool programming as well. Therefore, we've included some suggestions for preschool materials.
4. Bibliographies . . . . . p. 48
Please note that some titles are out-of-print, but are listed because they are still available in many libraries.

We've received quite a lot of input on the manual (and workshop) design and content. We've tried to incorporate these suggestions whenever possible and send thanks to everyone who sent in their ideas.

Our special thanks go to:

- Mary Wisnieski, our long-suffering corrector of mistakes, champagne consumer and typist "extraordinaire."
  - Judy Leslie, our "artiste beyond compare" whose art work may be seen at the workshops.
  - the wonderful members of the Northeast Network (where would we be without you?)
  - the Miami-Dade branch of the Gainesville Public Library (just kidding, you guys).
  - the incredible staff of the Santa Fe Regional Public Library, especially Linda, Vickie, Judy and Carol for ideas, labor, and "covering the desk."
- Plus Bert, Bill, Betty, and Burt Reynolds!

PUBLICITY

Introduction

From very simple to more elaborate, here are a few publicity ideas that we think can work for any size library. With adequate planning and preparation, one person should be able to utilize any of the following. Don't forget the manuals from previous years. They're full of basic information on publicity techniques that can easily be adapted to FOOTLOOSE.

Ideas

POSTERS: Post in prominent places around neighborhoods, shopping areas, recreation centers. Space is limited on the posters, so simply write in "Join the Fun" and your inclusive program dates. Or, mount the poster on a larger piece of colored poster board and attach a copy of your program flyer.

Look for examples of posters at the workshop.

STICKERS: Start giving out FOOTLOOSE stickers to all children who visit your library during the month preceding your program. Give them to individuals and school groups. If you've ordered enough, distribute to schools.

PROGRAM FLYER: Print your program flyer earlier and in quantities to enable you to distribute through the schools and places you've displayed the posters. Solicit funding for mass printing from your Friends of the Library, local businesses, or a cooperative printer. Type-setting and professional printing are desirable, but attractive flyers can be produced with only a typewriter and Xerox machine. Include a description of the FOOTLOOSE program in general, plus dates and times for specific programs.

Look for examples of flyers at the workshop.

FOOTPRINT PATH TO THE LIBRARY: Create a path of footprints leading up to the library door, into the building, and through the children's area. Begin your path at schools, parks, and/or recreation centers, or just have them appear at some prominent spot a short distance from the library. Outdoor footprints could easily be painted on sidewalks and streets with a stencil and roller. Make your stencil from a piece of poster board in the shape of your own foot, or get a child to serve as your model. Or make the footprints large and stylized.

Be sure to discuss this with your streets department for their approval. They might even do the prints for you!

Indoor prints can be cut from fabric, poster board, or plastic (i.e., contac paper), and should be secured carefully with tape or pins.

Once the path is in place, contact your newspaper, TV and radio stations about doing a news story on the "mysterious footprints."

"TOES" OF THE TOWN: Create a wall or bulletin board display of feet. Take photos of barefoot kids or kids wearing different kinds of foot gear. Photograph "feet only," below the knee. Caption each photo with child's name and age with a sentence about what their feet are going to "DO" during the summer. Photograph feet practicing ballet, wading in streams, walking on the beach, skate boarding, squishing mud between their toes, etc. Include some references to FOOTLOOSE programs and visiting the library in general.

You might also include library staff "feet" and photos of the feet of prominent citizens (mayor, library director, teachers, sports figures, etc.).

See if the media will run one or two photos with a story about FOOTLOOSE.

HOLD A FOOTLOOSE SCAVENGER HUNT: During May, set up a display with lists of things to find around town. Plan your kick-off program to be the culmination of the hunt. Award prizes to all participants and display items found. Use your imagination with the lists and highlight Florida materials. Prizes may be simple things like balloons, buttons, stickers, bookmarks, etc. Solicit donations from local businesses or your Friends group.

SCHOOL VISITS: Here we go again. You no doubt have THIS aspect of your promotion pretty well worked out. But, for those "first-timers" out there, here are a few suggestions.

*Make appointments to visit each school in your area during May. Determine how long you want each presentation to be and whether you will speak to individual classes, grade-level groups or assemblies.

*At the time of your visit, take posters to leave for display and bookmarks to give to each child. If you have ordered enough stickers, give those out too.

Ideas For School Presentations

The "Tell-A-Tale" Program:

Arrive at the school dressed as a "typical tourist"-- shorts, Hawaiian shirt, sandals, hat, camera and binoculars.

Use your camera to photograph the class. Display these photos at the library.

-OR-

Have T-shirts made using the design for a transfer that follows. (Or, make up your own unique design with a FOOTLOOSE theme.)

Look for examples of exquisitely modeled T-shirts at the workshop.

1. Introduce yourself, the library and the FOOTLOOSE program.
2. Tell a Grandfather Tale (Chase) or a Brer Rabbit story for Southern flavor. (Or, try a local tale or legend, if such exists.)
3. Share a picture book. Try Wide-Mouth Frog (Schneider) or Piney Woods Peddler (Shannon).
4. Booktalk Florida-related materials. The Talking Earth (George), Wahoo Bobcat (Lippincott) and Fishman and Charly (Davis) are good choices for upper grades.
5. Throw in some jokes and riddles. Leave 'em laughing.

The "Puppets Are Handy To Have Around" Program:

Adapt one of the Brer Rabbit puppet skits to travel. This will probably take two people, so if you work alone, seek a volunteer or two. Each segment of the puppet show is short and pretty easy to do. With some, you will be able to perform them as table-top shows which should make traveling simpler. PUPPET SCRIPTS AVAILABLE AT WORKSHOPS.

-OR-

Write your own skit using one of the puppet show characters. Highlight your specific summer plans.

1. Introductions and FOOTLOOSE explanations.
2. Skit.
3. Book talks.
4. Always use jokes--the "stupider" the better!

The Low Energy "Zip-A-Dee-Do-Dah" Program:

We think this is the easiest, fastest, and most fun--our favorite, in short.

Create a FOOTLOOSE MASCOT. Wear your gorilla suit (You all have one, don't you?) or, for a very simple costume idea, see Ranger Rick Magazine, October, 1984, pp. 20-24. Simply appear, in costume at each school, delivering posters, bookmarks and/or stickers to each classroom. You're bound to cause a stir!

Don't forget to make arrangements with the school, count out materials ahead of time and batch by class.

RADIO SPOTS: Write your own or use this . . .

NEWSFLASH! NEWSFLASH!

FEET ARE LOOSE IN FLORIDA! FEET ARE LOOSE IN FLORIDA!

Yes, there are feet loose in Florida, and they're all headed to the _____ Public Library. These feet belong to schoolage children, racing to join the 1985 Summer Library Program. . . . So, beat the heat, Feet.! Come on in and join FOOTLOOSE IN FLORIDA. A VACATION SENSATION!

-OR-

Kids! Are your feet bored? Feeling forgotten? Well, turn them loose this summer at the _____ Public Library with FOOTLOOSE IN FLORIDA! Walk, run, climb, zoom, ramble, or stroll on down to the library. Join the Vacation Sensation!

KICK-OFFS! FINALES!
OTHER EXTRAVAGANZAS!
(for the seasonally insane!)

Introduction

These are spectacular events, requiring lots of advance planning and coordination. This kind of program can increase community involvement and awareness of your library. Good luck!

Ideas

NATIVE MATERIALS SCAVENGER HUNT: (See Publicity section, p. 3).

LOCAL "TELL IT LIKE IT WAS" FEST: Invite some local "old-timers" to tell stories and reminiscence about the early days of your community.

HOLD A FOOTLOOSE RUN: Keep it short for kids. All participants get a "famous" FOOTLOOSE sticker and wear numbers written on feet shaped cut-outs. Solicit prizes from local businesses. FOOTLOOSE T-shirts would be especially appropriate. Co-sponsor with your recreation department or a local athletic store.

HAVE A FOOTLOOSE FOOTBALL GAME: Really "kick-off" your summer program! Or, have a Kick-Off Contest. Give prizes in age categories for longest kick, most creative kick, best backward kick, etc. Give everyone a (you guessed it) sticker and provide small prizes for all who participate.

Be sure to use a foam "Nerf" ball for safety. They are available at most toy stores.

HAVE FOOTLOOSE RACE DAY: Set up courses for several different kinds of races: 3-legged, relay (pass the shoe), backward walking, and so on. See Good Times (Burns) for ideas.

HOLD A FOOTLOOSE PARADE: Young and old will enjoy walking, biking, skateboarding or whatever. Participants can decorate their "vehicles" with crepe paper and balloons. They can come in "creative" footwear such as winged sandals or tin-can shoes. Give out prizes and call the media. See Good Times (Burns).

HAVE A FOOTLOOSE DANCE EXHIBITION: Invite kids and/or local dance groups to participate by giving demonstrations of ballet, tap, break, square dancing and clogging. Let the experts teach kids some steps or encourage kids to make new steps. Give prizes to all.

HAVE A BEAUTIFUL FEET OR "TOES" OF THE TOWN CONTEST: Contestants vie for prizes in such categories as: most elegant, longest second toe, smelliest, best decorated, most agile (picking up pencils), etc.

CELEBRATE MIDSUMMER MADNESS: Enjoy the relaxed atmosphere of the summer months with an evening under the stars! Hold a storytelling concert highlighted with music by local performers.

HAVE A FOOTLOOSE SIDEWALK ART FESTIVAL: Hand out colored chalks to kids and let them go crazy! Encourage drawings of typical Florida things or scenes from their favorite books. Prizes for all or "instant" photos of all drawings.

PLAY MINIATURE GOLF: See Backyard Vacation (Haas) for instructions.

HAVE A FOOTLOOSE STREET FAIR: Put together any or all of the above ideas to create total chaos! Have a run, races, sidewalk art, "Toes" of the Town contest and so on. Invite local craftspeople to give demonstrations of basket-weaving, quilting, etc. Have local musicians and dancers perform and throw in some storytelling and the puppet show. Don't forget the MEDIA!

COLLAPSE!

HAVE A FOOTLOOSE CAMP-IN OR CAMP-OUT!: Open your library or surrounding grounds for a night of fun! Issue invitations with information on activities, rules and regulations for parents. Kids can bring their sleeping bags, pillows, and blankets; tell stories by flashlight; create a "bonfire" with flashlights and red cellophane. Use any of the above ideas that seem appropriate.

Be sure to check on your liability/ insurance status before planning this! Make sure you have enough chaperones, too.

ABOVE ALL . . . HAVE FUN!

DECORATIONS & DISPLAYS

FLORA: Bring in lots of potted plants. Amass them in corners. Set potted palms on either side of your entrance for that "very tropical" effect.

TRACKS: Plaster the place with footprints: on walls, ceilings, across desks, over windows, etc.

FLIGHTS: Suspend kites from ceiling.

MOBILES: Let your kids create Florida mobiles from shells, pine cones, cut-outs of suns, palms, fish, etc. Look through the craft books for ideas.

FAUNA: Set up terrariums and simple aquariums or invite a local pet store to set up and tend a more elaborate aquarium for you. See Pets in a Jar (Simon).

COLLECTOR'S CORNER: Solicit your patrons for their special collections to display. Seek out collections of shells, rocks, fossils, insects, and so on.

LOCAL HISTORY: Highlight the history of your area with a YESTERDAY IN (insert your town's name) display. Use old photographs, farm utensils, toys and games, clothing. Take rubbings of historical markers or tombstones. See Paper Crafts (Hetzler) for directions. Contact your local historical society for their ideas and resources.

ARTS & CRAFTS: Display Florida crafts such as basketry, quilting, wrought iron work or wood carving. Contact local artisans for their suggestions.

KID DECO: Let your kids decorate the walls with Florida murals. Cover a wall with brown or white butcher paper, provide colored pencils, markers, chalk or paint and let your kids go. Do one continuous mural all around the room (if you have wall space) or do a new mural every week or so. You might set a theme for each mural.

Possible themes:

FLORIDA SCENES. Include pictures of the beach, animals, palms, the Everglades, your local skyline, etc.

SUMMER FEET. Use pictures of summer activities such as swimming, skateboarding, dance, etc.

FOOTLOOSE FICTION. Include scenes and characters from books using your trusty old opaque projector (If you don't have one, see about borrowing one from your local school). Then, let the kids fill it in with fabrics, paper, and natural Florida "stuff." See This Way to Books (Bauer) for more ideas.

This can be a group project, in conjunction with a program, or kids can add to it individually when they visit the library.

BOOK NOOKS: Build a small Seminole Chickee, constructed from fence posts and palm fronds. Directions for a rather elaborate version may be found in Seminole World of Tommy Tiger (Kersey). Directions for a temporary Seminole hunting shelter may be found in American Indian Habitats (Simon).

Create an At The Beach spot with a beach umbrella, beach blanket or inflatable raft. Fill an ice chest with good books to read.

Grow a Reading Jungle. Set up a circle or semi-circle of potted, fast-growing vines such as philodendren or sweet potato. Place a tall stake in each pot for the vine to grow up. Angle stakes so they meet at top and tie together. As the plants grow, you get a shady jungle nook for quiet reading.

FOR STAFF ONLY: Put up a hammock for rest and relaxation. Ignore your problems for awhile!

BULLETIN BOARDS AND BOOK DISPLAYS

Introduction

In this section, we shall list some possible titles and ideas for bulletin boards. Use the opaque projector and some appropriate illustrations from your favorite books to create a very "foot-o-genic" display.

Ideas

BEAT THE HEAT . . . READ!

Use the sun, beach umbrella, kid in hammock with sun visor, etc., for a refreshingly "cool" summer treat.

"PONCE" ON SOME GOOD BOOKS!

Use a Spanish "Ponce de Leon" figure as your focal point with book jackets or book titles written on flower-shaped cutouts.

GONE FISHIN'

Use a man in a boat with fishing pole and line, water line, cutout fish shapes with book titles. See Professor Wormbog In Search For the Zipperump-a-zoo (Mayer) for an illustration. Also, UPSTART has a commercially produced "Fishin' for Fiction" bulletin board set which will do nicely.

FLY HIGH WITH BOOKS!

Write book titles on kites. Use a real kite as a bulletin board decoration.

FOOTLOOSE IN FLORIDA!

Use a large silhouette of the state with graphics highlighting attractions, places of interest, historical sites, etc.

Send for posters, maps, etc. See p. 80 in manual.

ANIMAL TRACKS

It's tootsie time for the animal set! Decorate your bulletin board with (you guessed it) animal tracks. Have a contest to see who can identify them. Highlight animal books. Put up a few animal jokes.

FAMOUS FEET

Make up a "Famous Feet" quiz board. Write or type out questions leaving blanks for kids to guess. Provide answers at the bottom of the board written upside down or backwards. Use the following or make up your own. Decorate with feet-shaped cutouts.

1. Who wore "herring boxes without topses" for shows? _____
2. What monster has very large "tootsies"? _____
3. What do you call small hills around mountains? _____
4. 12 inches equals one _____.
5. Who lost her glass slipper? _____.
6. Complete this ghost story title, "The Thing At The _____ of the Bed."
7. Break dancing takes fancy _____.
8. What nursery rhyme character had too many children? _____
9. What game has 11 players on each team? _____
10. Complete this proverb: "Put your best _____ forward."

Answers available at workshops (for a modest fee).

PROGRAMMING:

A MIDSUMMER DAY'S MADNESS

Introduction

Let's face it. Programming year after year, month after month, week after week can be (to say the least) depressing, exhausting, and boring. It is often hard to come up with an idea that will thrill, not only the kids, but YOU!

Ergo, This Section.

Please . . . do not think that these few pages of magnificent ideas will alleviate ALL of your programming problems. (Au Contraire!) WE know that many will peruse these pages and say,

"Hey! I can do that!" See #1.

-or-

"Hey! I can do that better!" See #2

-or-

"Hey! Who would EVER do THAT!" See #3

- #1. Terrific! See you at the workshop!
- #2. Oh yeah! See you at the workshop!
- #3. We agree! See you at the pool!

Instead, it is our intent to help you formulate ideas (if you have time) or implement our ideas (if you don't).

. Therefore, we have presented our method of programming for the masses. All programs are grouped under a general or "umbrella" theme. This, we feel, gives the programmer greater guidance and flexibility in the "publicity and gimmick" aspect of the individual program.

Remember, our "umbrella" themes are just suggestions. Use them (those little gems) if you want.

Under each "umbrella" theme, we have listed titles for individual programs as well as materials, activities and/or craft projects. Some are detailed program plans--others are more general. Again, pick and choose what you like. Please be aware that we have suggested titles that are out-of-print. We have tried to keep these to a minimum, but there were some we just couldn't resist!

Special guest speakers, story-tellers or demonstrations can be used with any of the programs.

ENJOIE!!!

*Check out Program Idea
#1. (See below) Then
ENJOIE!*

PROGRAM IDEA #1

THE PROGRAM TOSS

Purpose: To achieve ultimate ease in program planning.

Procedure: Separate your manual. Take the program portion in your hands. Stand facing a window and under an air conditioning duct. Hold arms out at sides. Turn 360 degrees and open fingers at THE SAME TIME!! (tricky part). Whatever lands within six inches of your feet (or, your little pinkie toes, for the truly selective!) becomes a part of your program for the summer.

If you are really tired of programming and are thinking of only throwing a few big bashes BUT you can't seem to lose the guilt (YOU KNOW WHAT GUILT) BUT you just don't even want to think about one more summer (will they ever be different) of programming, THEN, it is extremely wise to get someone with really short feet and extremely long arms to perform the toss. Go in Peace. All is forgiven.

UMBRELLAS #1 & #2

Below are listed the titles for two detailed programs.

UMBRELLA #1

FLORIDA FEETS: Feets of All Shapes & Sizes

Introduction

How about a "Story Boot." Pull your story symbols from the boot or decorate boots with symbols attached to the outside. The symbol can be anything that you relate to the theme (e.g., for chicken feet, pull out an old chicken bone or a rubber chicken--if you are lucky enough to own one!).

Individual Program Titles

1. Bare Feets and Other "Unbearable" Tales.
2. Beat Feets: Stories For Tapping Toes.
3. Magical Feets.
4. Sweet Feets and Other Endearments.
5. Pig Feets and Other Trotters.
6. Chicken Feets and Other "Fowl" Tales.
7. Fee Fie Foe Feets.
8. Hot Feets!
9. Foolish Feets.
10. Scaredy Feets: Stories To Curl Your Toes.

UMBRELLA #2

FOOTLOOSE FROLICS: Summer Happenings

Introduction

Focus this series on picnics, boatings, and other frivolities of the summer.

Individual Program Titles

1. Go Jump In The Lake.
2. Moveable Feasts.
3. Fascinatin' Rhythms.
4. Gone Fishin'.
5. Around The Campfire.
6. Balloonacy.
7. Foolin' Around.
8. Go Fly A Kite!
9. Sail Away.
10. Take A Hike!

*In this section, songs and crafts,
etc., are not usually included.
Refer back to FLORIDA FEETS for further filler fun.*

FLORIDA FEETS #1:

BARE FEETS

And Other "Unbearable" Tales

READ-ALOUDS

(Ages 6-8)

Cully Cully and the Bear (Gage)
Lucretia the Unbearable (Sharmat)

(Ages 9-Adult)

Any of the above plus:
Harry, The Fat Bear Spy (Wilson)

TOLD STORIES

(Ages 6-8)

"Sody Sallyraytus" in Grandfather Tales (Chase).
An old tale in which the family's pet squirrel outwits the bear and saves the day.

"Bear Says North" in Shepherd's Nosegay (Fillmore) O.P.
If he'd only said "east" he might have had his dinner without any trouble.

(Ages 9-Adult)

"East of the Sun and West of the Moon" in East of the Sun and West of the Moon (Nielsen).
A fine retelling of the classic tale. The illustrations, though few, are magnificent!

"Whitebear Whittington" in Grandfather Tales (Chase).
An Appalachian version of East of the Sun and West of the Moon.

SONGS

"The Austrian" in Fireside Book of Fun and Game Songs (Winn).
"The Bear Song" in Funny Song Book (Nelson).
"Down By The Bay" in Sally Go Round The Sun (Fowke).

POETRY

"Fuzzy Wuzzy Was A Bear" in A New Treasury of Children's Poetry (Cole).
Casey at the Bat (Thayer).

CRAFT

Foot Painting: Use tempera paint, freezer paper and sidewalks. Have children step in paint and out onto the paper, making pictures with their feet. Simple footprints are cute on their own, or the print can be embellished with crayon or marker designs. Let dry and display or let the kids take them home. Marvelous idea from Norma Jones, Clay County.

FILM

Paddington Bear series (available from State Library).

UMBRELLA #3:

FLORIDA TOUR

(with thanks to the Miami contingent)

Introduction

Display a large map of Florida with special "stops" on your "tour" highlighted by appropriate graphics. Use your map to track a FOOTLOOSE journey around the state in story and song.

Individual Program Titles

1. Magic Kingdom.
2. Dark Continent.
3. Beware! Ghosts!
4. Devil's Triangle.
5. Buried Treasure.
6. Gold Coast.
7. Shoot The Moon.
8. Deep In The Swamp.
9. Believe It Or Not!
10. Rollin' On The River.

Program Descriptions

1. Magic Kingdom (Disney World)
See "Magical Feet," p. 18 in program manual for materials. Also, see Black Horse (Mayer) and "Sorcerer's Apprentice," a short film from Disney, starring Mickey Mouse.
2. Dark Continent (Busch Gardens)
Tell African stories from Behind The Back Of The Mountains (Aardema), King's Drum (Courlander) and Treasury of African Folklore (Courlander). Also, use Why The Tides Ebb and Flow (Bowden), A Story, A Story (Haley) or Why Mosquitoes Buzz in People's Ears (Aardema).
3. Beware! Ghosts! (Florida ghost towns or Cassadega)
See "Scaredy Feet," p. 32 and "Around the Campfire," p. 38.
4. Devil's Triangle
See "Hot Feet," p. 28 for devil stories. Also try Do Not Open (Turkle) and "Lost Half-Hour" in The Lost Half-Hour (Ross) (if you have it). Look for stories on "lost" things or disappearances. "The Lass Who Went Out At The Cry Of Dawn" in Thistle And Thyme (Nic Leodhas) is a good one to tell.
5. Buried Treasures (Pirates in Florida Keys/Tampa)
Look for stories about pirates or buried treasure. Possibilities include Esteban and the Ghost (Hancock), Anton B. Stanton and The Pirats (McNaughton), "Drowned Bells of The Abbey" in Thistle and Thyme (Nic Leodhas), or "Gold Table" in King Of The Mountains (Jagendorf).

6. Gold Coast

Focus on "gold" with Goose and The Golden Coins (Cauley), Devil With The Three Golden Hairs (Hogrogrian) and "Golden Shoes" in Let's Steal The Moon (Serwer).

7. Shoot The Moon (Kennedy Space Center)

Focus on stories of space and space travel, the stars, moon and zodiac. Refer to the manuals from BOOK TREK I and II for lots of ideas.

8. Deep In The Swamp (Everglades)

Tell Wiley and The Hairy Man (Bang) and "Alligators" in Scary Stories (Schwartz). Also, use Liza Lou and The Yeller Belly Swamp (Mayer), Dancing Turtle (Duff) and Wide-Mouthed Frog (Schneider). Show the filmstrip, "Grey Lady and the Strawberry Snatcher" (Random House) and don't forget to sing "Rattlin' Bog" on the record In The Schoolyard (Sharon, Lois and Bram).

9. Believe It Or Not! (St. Augustine's Ripley's Museum)

Tell some outlandishly tall tales and downright lies. Use "Moanin' Boots" in Ol! Paul (Rounds), McBroom's Almanac (Fleischman) and Kickle Snifters and Other Fearsome Critters (Schwartz). Try some stunts from Bet You Can! and Bet You Can't! (Both by Cobb).

-or-

Focus on the Fountain of Youth and tell stories of people who change in some way. Use Beauty and the Beast (Mayer), Strange Story of the Frog Who Became A Prince (Horwitz) or Wales' Tale (Saunders).

10. Rollin' On The River

Focus on the Suwannee River or your own local river. Use Elephant's Child (Kipling), "Timimoto and the Silver Needle-Sword" in Haunts and Taunts (Chapman), Tattie's River Journey (Murphy) and sing "Down By The Old Mill Stream."

Other Potential Titles of Programs On Your Florida Tour

Circus World--Stories of circuses, clowns, parades, etc.
Horse Country--Highlight Central Florida.
Sun Coast--See E*S*P and BOOK TREK I and II manuals for ideas.
Emerald Coast--Use stories about jewels, green things, etc.
Keys--Use stories of mystery and suspense. "Bluebeard" in Arthur Rackham Fairy Book (Rackham) is a definite!

UMBRELLA #4:

FLORIDA FIRSTS

Introduction

Focus this series of programs on the people who settled the state. This is a good opportunity to invite special guests to your programs to bring other cultures alive for your kids. Use costumes, games, songs, and food from the culture to add spice.

Individual Program Titles

1. Native Americans.
2. Spanish.
3. French.
4. English.
5. Crackers.
6. Caribbean.
7. Afro-American.
8. Greek.

Program Descriptions

1. Native Americans
Tell stories from various Indian tribes. See "To Feed My People: The Coming of Corn" a Miccosukee legend in American Indian Mythology (Marriot). And It Is Still That Way (Baylor) and Monster Rolling Skull (Gustafson) have easy and fun-to-tell stories. If you live in South Florida, see about inviting a Seminole or Miccosukee representative to talk about their customs and way of life. See also Seminole World of Tommy Tiger (Kersey) for craft and food ideas.
2. Spanish
Use materials from Spain and Latin America. See Tales From Hispanic Lands (Green), Three Golden Oranges (Boggs), Favorite Fairy Tales Told In Spain (Haviland), Tales From Silver Lands (Finger), King of the Mountains (Jagendorf) and Old Lady Who Ate People (Hinojosa). For filler material see Play It In Spanish (Prieto).
3. French
Use any Perrault stories plus Stone Soup (Brown) and Charles and Claudine (Berson).
4. English
Use any Joseph Jacobs plus Tattercoats (Steel) and Jim and the Beanstalk (Briggs). Also, Robin Hood or King Arthur.

5. Crackers

Any Southern tale will do here. Try Grandfather Tales and Jack Tales (Chase), Folk Stories of the South (Jagendorf), Kickle Snifters (Schwartz) and Piney Woods Peddler (Shannon). Throw in a craft or activity from Kid's America (Caney). Have a square dance or teach everybody to clog.

6. Caribbean

Use Magic Orange Tree (Wolkstein), Ears and Tails and Common Sense and Anansi the Spider Man (Sherlock) and Perez & Martina (Belpré). Have a limbo contest to end the program!

7. Afro-American

Use stories from Bo Rabbit Smart For True (Jaquith), Knee-High Man or Black Folk Tales (Lester). Also, John Henry (Keats).

8. Greek

Tell Greek myths from Book of Greek Myths (D'Aulaire) or Shining Stars (Vautier) or stories from Favorite Fairy Tales Told in Greece (Haviland). If you're in the right area, invite a sponge diver to talk about Tarpon Springs and sponge fishing. Serve baklava!

Look around your community to identify other ethnic groups who've played a part in making Florida an "International Melting Pot."

OTHER APPROACHES

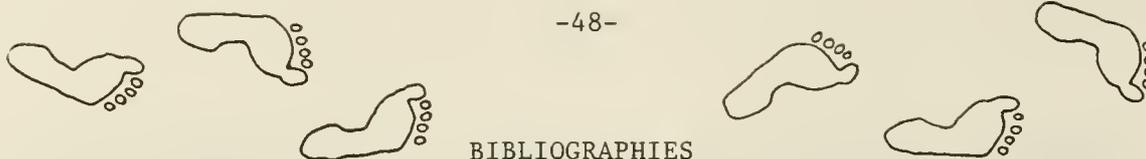

Focus a series of programs on:

Feet (things they do). Invite guest speakers to demonstrate their "tootsie" talents--ballet, tap dance, clogging, skateboarding, break dancing, running, etc.

Foot Gear (What well-dressed feet wear!). Center your stories on boots, slippers, sandals, sneakers ("tricky" stories), etc.

Puss in Boots (Galdone or Perrault), "Cinderella," Cobbler's Song (Sewall), Two Pairs of Shoes (Travers).

Animals of Florida. Look for stories about alligators, possums, armadillos, turtles, fish, snakes, etc. Try "Alligators" in Scary Stories (Schwartz), Beginning of the Armadillos (Kipling) and any and all Brer Rabbit.

The bibliographies for FOOTLOOSE IN FLORIDA are divided into three sections. The first two contain materials that relate specifically to Florida; the third contains materials suggested in the program section of this manual, as well as, other resources you might find useful in planning your summer programs. General criteria for inclusion in these lists are:

- A) Availability (listed in the 1983-84 Books in Print or Mickler's Catalog)
- B) Published since 1975
- C) Of interest to young people

Exceptions to these guidelines have been made when we felt an older or out-of-print book deserved attention and might be found in existing collections. This is not a recommended list, but simply a compilation of materials that relate to the theme in some way. Purchase decisions should be made in view of your own library's needs and resources.

MISCELLANY: Try these ideas--if you still have the energy!

Bumper Stickers:

Get a friendly business to underwrite the cost of bumper stickers. Make up your own slogan or try:

FOOTLOOSE! THE VACATION SENSATION
 at the public library.

FOOTLOOSE AND FANCY FREE
 at the public library.

FEET FEVER! Get it at the public library.

FOOTLOOSE FEVER! CATCH IT!

CATCH FLORIDA FEVER
 at the public library!

Choral Chant:

Good for a radio spot or a very "upbeat" school visit!

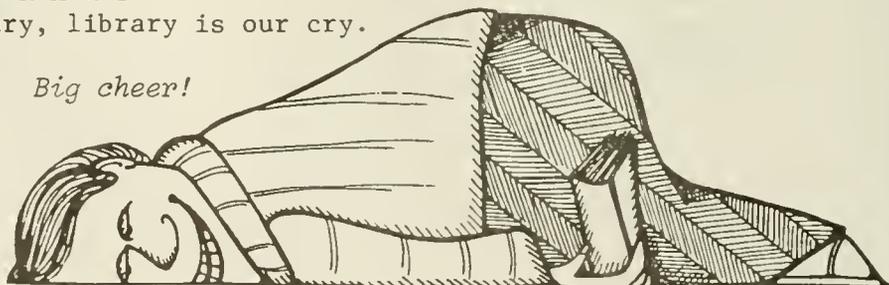

First
 you take your feet
 and you put 'em
 in the street
 toward the place
 that can't be beat.
 It's the library.

You boogie down the roads
 got a book
 under your nose.
 You're tapping
 with your toes
 to the library.

You go on
 through the door.
 You gotta get some more.
 There's always fun in store
 at the library.

L-I-B-R-A-R-Y
 Library, library is our cry.

Big cheer!

PENINSULAR PERILS: VENTURE IF YOU DARE

A Game For Intrepid Library Explorers

Introduction

Use the following game sheet to help children discover the excitement of the state. Make up questions, requiring the use of library resources, as easy or as difficult as you wish. Make up one set of questions or make several sets, graded by age. Use it as a "general issue" game, reproducing in quantity, or as a "gimmick" for a program series. A game sheet with sample questions follows, along with a blank sheet for your use.

See Discover Florida: A Guide To Unique Sites and Sights by Robert Tolf (Manatee Books, 1982).

We have made up eight situations following a random sequence. You can, of course, move in the order that you wish. You may choose your own adventure or choose ours. Enjoy Your Journey!

"Hot Spots" On The Map
